Mountain Bike Trail Suggestions

Difficult

Splash Dam South Trail: Follow the Blackwater River outside of Davis, WV in the Little Canaan Wildlife Management Area. This is an out and back trail. Pick up the trailhead at the end of Camp 70 Rd, just across the walking bridge over the Blackwater River. Or, begin from the Town of Davis, the Heart of the Highlands kiosk and Splash Dam South trailhead is located next to the Rt. 32 Bridge. Turning Splash Dam South into a loop with Yellow Creek or Moon Rocks Trail is a great option for a solid day in the saddle.

Moon Rocks: Ride the legendary terrain of Moon Rocks and HooDoo Rocks. This is where racers and die hard mtn. bikers have been putting their skills to the test since the early 80's. Start the nine mile loop Beaver Creek trailhead on Camp 70 Rd. in Davis. Finish with cold libations and a full stomach at one of Davis's many establishments.

Plantation Trail: Canaan Mountain Backcountry is a vast trail system weaving through dense rhododendron and evergreens. Plantation Trail is the main artery, stretching almost 9 miles with plenty of optional trails along the route. Expect technical rocks and roots with plenty of punchy ups and downs. There is not a lot of elevation to this ride unless ascending or descending into Canaan Valley State Park via Allegheny trail or Davis Trail in Blackwater Falls State Park.
